Two Barangays (Sta Anastacia and San Bartolome) were pleased that we have chosen their place as the recipients of sturdy waste bins which the resident students of the said place can use each day.

Around one hundred fifty Grades 4, 5 and 6 students assembled in one room where we, the IPI CSR SC team, made a presentation of how mishandling of wastes can lead to losses of property and lives. The faculty members likewise showed support to their students by encouraging them to listen and behave their best during the short presentation.

We handed over twelve(12) units of waste bins properly labelled as to BIODEGRADABLE, NONBIODEGRADABLE, and RECYCLABLE, of which the school principal promptly instructed to put into place.

Part of the education given is the visualization of the damages and losses suffered by man, brought about by the actions of man. Teaching the young populace, reaching out to the generation that would shape the future is an activity that we believe will bear fruit in the end.

Our environment is in bad shape. Continuously, wastes are produced and overflowing occupy the earth. But we can do more than just lament on the hopelessness.

Sto. Tomas children are educated by different environment-conscious people.
Sto. Tomas garbage collectors practice wastes-coding collection.

Are we headed to a better Sto. Tomas?

Looking forward.
